RIT College of Art and Design

Transfer Share Changes

2024-01-10 - Joe Schultz - General

The transfer share has changed!

However -- the transfer share is still a temporary storage location that is wiped nightly. Do NOT store files in there for long term use.

Changes have been made to the CAD transfer share to allow more privacy when desired. Now when you connect to the transfer share, you will see 2 folders, the public and private folder. The public folder is shared between all users. Files and folders that you upload into the public folder will be seen be everyone. This is useful for sharing and collaborating in the classroom with your peers. The private folder is only accessible to you, which is helpful when you are jumping between computer stations or labs.

If you have any problems accessing this share, please submit a ticket!

Please be advised that any files placed in this share are subject to the RIT Code of Conduct for Computer Use and the RIT Network Acceptable Use Guidelines.

RIT Code of Conduct for Computer Use:
https://www.rit.edu/policies/c082

RIT Network Acceptable Use Guidelines:
https://www.rit.edu/its/resnet/rit-network-acceptable-use-guidelines